About the AHF Top 50:

Affordable Housing Finance annually ranks the nation's top affordable housing developers. Although The AHF 50 captures only a small segment of the affordable housing being built each year, the survey provides a vivid snapshot of the industry. The for-profit and nonprofit companies on Affordable Housing Finance's latest Top 50 list broke ground on 18,791 affordable units in 264 developments last year. That's a roughly 8 percent jump from the 17,438 units in 213 projects started by the same developers in 2011.
